

OriDev is an engineering and consulting company specialized in the development of new solutions to bring to companies that would like to enhance or diversify their activities.

Our multidisciplinary team will bring you its technical and commercial knowhow.

OUR EXPERTISE:

- > More than 10 years of experience in formworks designing for concrete precasted product
- > Project management for the development and installation of production plant around the world
- > Enhancing of existing design and production process

OUR SERVICES:

- > Design of moulds and formworks as well as handling devices for precast elements
- > Research and development, production process optimization
- > Business development (diversification, internationalization...)